THE BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord:
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;

He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

Chorus: Glory, glory, Hallelujah! Glory, glory, Hallelujah!
Glory, glory, Hallelujah! His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.

Chorus.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel:
"As ye deal with my contemnners, so with you my grace shall deal;

Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel, Since God is marching on."

Chorus.

He hath sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat:
Oh! be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

Chorus.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me:
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

Chorus.

Chorus.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel:
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace shall deal;
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel,
Since God is marching on."

Chorus.

He hath sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat:
Oh! be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

Chorus.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me:
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

Chorus.

THE BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

Chorus: Glory, glory, Hallelujah! Glory, glory, Hallelujah!
Glory, glory, Hallelujah! His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.

Chorus.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel:
"As ye deal with my contemnners, so with you my grace shall deal;
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel,

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there!
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mist of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze o'er the lowering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines in the stream;
'Tis the star-spangled banner. Oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with victory and peace, may the Heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
 What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
 Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
 O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
 And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
 Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there!
 Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mist of the deep,
 Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
 What is that which the breeze o'er the lowering steep,
 As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
 Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
 In full glory reflected, now shines in the stream;
 'Tis the star-spangled banner. Oh, long may it wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
 Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
 Blest with victory and peace, may the Heaven-rescued land
 Praise the Power that made and preserved us a nation.
 Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
 And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."
 And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there!
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mist of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze o'er the lowering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines in the stream;
'Tis the star-spangled banner. Oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with victory and peace, may the Heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
 What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
 Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
 O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
 And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
 Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there!
 Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mist of the deep,
 Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
 What is that which the breeze o'er the lowering steep,
 As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
 Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
 In full glory reflected, now shines in the stream;
 'Tis the star-spangled banner. Oh, long may it wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
 Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
 Blest with victory and peace, may the Heaven-rescued land
 Praise the Power that made and preserved us a nation.
 Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
 And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."
 And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

—Francis Scott Key

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
 What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
 Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
 O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
 And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
 Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there!
 Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mist of the deep,
 Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
 What is that which the breeze o'er the lowering steep,
 As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
 Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
 In full glory reflected, now shines in the stream;
 'Tis the star-spangled banner. Oh, long may it wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
 Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
 Blest with victory and peace, may the Heaven-rescued land
 Praise the Power that made and preserved us a nation.
 Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
 And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."
 And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

The Influenza Pandemic of 1918

The influenza pandemic of 1918-1919 killed more people than the Great War, known today as World War I (WWI), at somewhere between 20 and 40 million people. It has been cited as the most devastating epidemic in recorded world history. More people died of influenza in a single year than in four-years of the Black Death Bubonic Plague from 1347 to 1351. Known as "Spanish Flu" or "La Grippe" the influenza of 1918-1919 was a global disaster.

The Grim Reaper by Louis Raemaekers

In the fall of 1918 the Great War in Europe was winding down and peace was on the horizon. The Americans had joined in the fight, bringing the Allies closer to victory against the Germans. Deep within the trenches these men lived through some of the most brutal conditions of life, which it seemed could not be any worse. Then, in pockets across the globe, something erupted that seemed as benign as the common cold. The influenza of that season, however, was far more than a cold. In the two years that this scourge ravaged the earth, a fifth of the world's population was infected. The flu was most deadly for people ages 20 to 40. This pattern of morbidity was unusual for influenza which is usually a killer of the elderly and young children. It infected 28% of all Americans (Tice). An estimated 675,000 Americans died of influenza during the pandemic, ten times as many as in the world war. Of the U.S. soldiers who died in Europe, half of them fell to the influenza virus and not to the enemy (Deseret News). An estimated 43,000 servicemen mobilized for WWI died of influenza (Crosby). 1918 would go down as unforgettable year of suffering and death and yet of peace. As noted in the Journal of the American Medical Association final edition of 1918:

"The 1918 has gone: a year momentous as the termination of the most cruel war in the annals of the human race; a year which marked, the end at least for a time, of man's destruction of man; unfortunately a year in which developed a most fatal infectious disease causing the death of hundreds of thousands of human beings. Medical science for four and one-half years devoted itself to putting men on the firing line and keeping them there. Now it must turn with its whole might to combating the greatest enemy of all--infectious disease," (12/28/1918).

An Emergency Hospital for Influenza Patients

The effect of the influenza epidemic was so severe that the average life span in the US was depressed by 10 years. The influenza virus had a profound virulence, with a mortality rate at 2.5% compared to the previous influenza epidemics, which were less than 0.1%. The death rate for 15 to 34-year-olds of influenza and pneumonia were 20 times higher in 1918 than in previous years (Taubenberger). People were struck with illness on the street and died rapid deaths. One anecdote shared of 1918 was of four women playing bridge together late into the night. Overnight, three of the women died from influenza (Hoagg). Others told stories of people on their way to work suddenly developing the flu and dying within hours (Henig). One physician writes that patients with seemingly ordinary influenza would rapidly "develop the most viscous type of pneumonia that has ever been seen" and later when cyanosis appeared in the patients, "it is simply a struggle for air until they suffocate," (Grist, 1979). Another physician recalls that the influenza patients "died struggling to clear their airways of a blood-tinged froth that sometimes gushed from their nose and mouth," (Starr, 1976). The physicians of the time were helpless against this powerful agent of influenza. In 1918 children would skip rope to the rhyme (Crawford):

*I had a little bird,
Its name was Enza.
I opened the window,
And in-flu-enza.*

The influenza pandemic circled the globe. Most of humanity felt the effects of this strain of the influenza virus. It spread following the path of its human carriers, along trade routes and shipping lines. Outbreaks swept through North America, Europe, Asia, Africa, Brazil and the South Pacific (Taubenberger). In India the mortality rate was extremely high at around 50 deaths from influenza per 1,000 people (Brown). The Great War, with its mass movements of men in armies and aboard ships, probably aided in its rapid diffusion and attack.

The origins of the deadly flu disease were unknown but widely speculated upon. Some of the allies thought of the epidemic as a biological warfare tool of the Germans. Many thought it was a result of the trench warfare, the use of mustard gases and the generated "smoke and fumes" of the war. A national campaign began using the ready rhetoric of war to fight the new enemy of microscopic proportions. A study attempted to reason why the disease had been so devastating in certain localized regions, looking at the climate, the weather and the racial composition of cities. They found humidity to be linked with more severe epidemics as it "fosters the dissemination of the bacteria," (Committee on Atmosphere and Man, 1923). Meanwhile the new sciences of the infectious agents and immunology were racing to come up with a vaccine or therapy to stop the epidemics.

The experiences of people in military camps encountering the influenza pandemic:

The origins of this influenza variant is not precisely known. It is thought to have originated in China in a rare genetic shift of the influenza virus. The recombination of its surface proteins created a virus novel to almost everyone and a loss of herd immunity. Recently the virus has been reconstructed from the tissue of a dead soldier and is now being genetically characterized. The name of Spanish Flu came from the early affliction and large mortalities in Spain (BMJ, 10/19/1918) where it allegedly killed 8 million in May (BMJ, 7/13/1918). However, a first wave of influenza appeared early in the spring of 1918 in Kansas and in military camps throughout the US. Few noticed the epidemic in the midst of the war. Wilson had just given his 14 point address. There was virtually no response or acknowledgment to the epidemics in March and April in the military camps. It was unfortunate that no steps were taken to prepare for the usual recrudescence of the virulent influenza strain in the winter. The lack of action was later criticized when the epidemic could not be ignored in the winter of 1918 (BMJ, 1918). These first epidemics at training camps were a sign of what was coming in greater magnitude in the fall and winter of 1918 to the entire world.

The war brought the virus back into the US for the second wave of the epidemic. It first arrived in Boston in September of 1918 through the port busy with war shipments of machinery and supplies. The war also enabled the virus to spread and diffuse. Men across the nation were mobilizing to join the military and the cause. As they came together, they brought the virus with them and to those they contacted. The virus killed almost 200,00 in October of 1918 alone. In November 11 of 1918 the end of the war enabled a resurgence. As people celebrated Armistice Day with parades and large parties, a complete disaster from the public health standpoint, a rebirth of the epidemic occurred in some cities. The flu that winter was beyond imagination as millions were infected and thousands died. Just as the war had effected the course of influenza, influenza affected the war. Entire fleets were ill with the disease and men on the front were too sick to fight. The flu was devastating to both sides, killing more men than their own weapons could.

With the military patients coming home from the war with battle wounds and mustard gas burns, hospital facilities and staff were taxed to the limit. This created a shortage of physicians, especially in the civilian sector as many had been lost for service with the military. Since the medical practitioners were away with the troops, only the medical students were left to care for the sick. Third and fourth year classes were closed and the students assigned jobs as interns or nurses (Starr, 1976). One article noted that "depletion has been carried to such an extent that the practitioners are brought very near the breaking point," (BMJ, 11/2/1918). The shortage was further confounded by the added loss of physicians to the epidemic. In the U.S., the Red Cross had to recruit more volunteers to contribute to the new cause at home of fighting the influenza epidemic. To respond with the fullest utilization of nurses, volunteers and medical supplies, the Red Cross created a National Committee on Influenza. It was involved in both military and civilian sectors to mobilize all forces to fight Spanish influenza (Crosby, 1989). In some areas of the US, the nursing shortage was so acute that the Red Cross had to ask local businesses to allow workers to have the day off if they volunteer in the hospitals at night (Deseret News). Emergency hospitals were created to take in the patients from the US and those arriving sick from overseas.

The pandemic affected everyone. With one-quarter of the US and one-fifth of the world infected with the influenza, it was impossible to escape from the illness. Even President Woodrow Wilson suffered from the flu in early 1919 while negotiating the crucial treaty of Versailles to end the World War (Tice). Those who were lucky enough to avoid infection had to deal with the public health ordinances to restrain the spread of the disease. The public health departments distributed gauze masks to be worn in public. Stores could not hold sales, funerals were limited to 15 minutes. Some towns required a signed certificate to enter and railroads would not accept passengers without them. Those who ignored the flu ordinances had to pay steep fines enforced by extra officers (Deseret News). Bodies piled up as the massive deaths of the epidemic ensued. Besides the lack of health care workers and medical supplies, there was a shortage of coffins, morticians and gravediggers (Knox). The conditions in 1918 were not so far removed from the Black Death in the era of the bubonic plague of the Middle Ages.

In 1918-19 this deadly influenza pandemic erupted during the final stages of World War I. Nations were already attempting to deal with the effects and costs of the war. Propaganda campaigns and war restrictions and rations had been implemented by governments. Nationalism pervaded as people accepted government authority. This allowed the public health departments to easily step in and implement their restrictive measures. The war also gave science greater importance as governments relied on scientists, now armed with the new germ theory and the development of antiseptic surgery, to design vaccines and reduce mortalities of disease and battle wounds. Their new technologies could preserve the men on the front and ultimately save the world. These conditions created by World War I, together with the current social attitudes and ideas, led to the relatively calm response of the public and application of scientific ideas. People allowed for strict measures and loss of freedom during the war as they submitted to the needs of the nation ahead of their personal needs. They had accepted the limitations placed with rationing and drafting. The responses of the public health officials reflected the new allegiance to science and the wartime society. The medical and scientific communities had developed new theories and applied them to prevention, diagnostics and treatment of the influenza patients.

The Influenza Pandemic of 1918

The influenza pandemic of 1918-1919 killed more people than the Great War, known today as World War I (WWI), at somewhere between 20 and 40 million people. It has been cited as the most devastating epidemic in recorded world history. More people died of influenza in a single year than in four-years of the Black Death Bubonic Plague from 1347 to 1351. Known as "Spanish Flu" or "La Grippe" the influenza of 1918-1919 was a global disaster.

The Grim Reaper by Louis Raemaekers

In the fall of 1918 the Great War in Europe was winding down and peace was on the horizon. The Americans had joined in the fight, bringing the Allies closer to victory against the Germans. Deep within the trenches these men lived through some of the most brutal conditions of life, which it seemed could not be any worse. Then, in pockets across the globe, something erupted that seemed as benign as the common cold. The influenza of that season, however, was far more than a cold. In the two years that this scourge ravaged the earth, a fifth of the world's population was infected. The flu was most deadly for people ages 20 to 40. This pattern of morbidity was unusual for influenza which is usually a killer of the elderly and young children. It infected 28% of all Americans (Tice). An estimated 675,000 Americans died of influenza during the pandemic, ten times as many as in the world war. Of the U.S. soldiers who died in Europe, half of them fell to the influenza virus and not to the enemy (Deseret News). An estimated 43,000 servicemen mobilized for WWI died of influenza (Crosby). 1918

would go down as unforgettable year of suffering and death and yet of peace. As noted in the Journal of the American Medical Association final edition of 1918:

"The 1918 has gone: a year momentous as the termination of the most cruel war in the annals of the human race; a year which marked, the end at least for a time, of man's destruction of man; unfortunately a year in which developed a most fatal infectious disease causing the death of hundreds of thousands of human beings. Medical science for four and one-half years devoted itself to putting men on the firing line and keeping them there. Now it must turn with its whole might to combating the greatest enemy of all--infectious disease," (12/28/1918).

An Emergency Hospital for Influenza Patients

The effect of the influenza epidemic was so severe that the average life span in the US was depressed by 10 years. The influenza virus had a profound virulence, with a mortality rate at 2.5% compared to the previous influenza epidemics, which were less than 0.1%. The death rate for 15 to 34-year-olds of influenza and pneumonia were 20 times higher in 1918 than in previous years (Taubenberger). People were struck with illness on the street and died rapid deaths. One anecdote shared of 1918 was of four women playing bridge together late into the night. Overnight, three of the women died from influenza (Hoagg). Others told stories of people on their way to work suddenly developing the flu and dying within hours (Henig). One physician writes that patients with seemingly ordinary influenza would rapidly "develop the most viscous type of pneumonia that has ever been seen" and later when cyanosis appeared in the patients, "it is simply a struggle for air until they suffocate," (Grist, 1979). Another physician recalls that the influenza patients "died struggling to clear their airways of a blood-tinged froth that sometimes gushed from their nose and mouth," (Starr, 1976). The physicians of the time were helpless against this powerful agent of influenza. In 1918 children would skip rope to the rhyme (Crawford):

*I had a little bird,
Its name was Enza.
I opened the window,
And in-flu-enza.*

The influenza pandemic circled the globe. Most of humanity felt the effects of this strain of the influenza virus. Lorna McBarnette
Executive Deputy Commissioner

Dear Genealogist:

Effective October 17, 1991, the fee for genealogy search services and for issuing a "no record" report or an uncertified genealogical copy of a birth, death or marriage record is $11 per copy. A complete fee schedule is listed at the end of this letter. Since full payment is required, we are returning your request so that you may adjust the payment to reflect the new fee. To facilitate processing, please use the enclosed application form when you return the request.

Current backlogs necessitate a twelve-month processing time for genealogy requests. As an alternative, you may wish to redirect the request to the local registrar/clerk of the district where the event occurred.

We regret any inconvenience this change may have caused you.

Sincerely,

L. Julien Rivers

General Information and Application for Genealogical Services

VITAL RECORDS COPIES CANNOT BE PROVIDED FOR COMMERCIAL PURPOSES.

1. FEE - $11.00 includes search and uncertified copy or notification of no record.
2. Original records of births and marriages for the entire state begin with 1881, deaths begin with 1880, EXCEPT for records filed in Albany, Buffalo and Yonkers prior to 1914. Applications for these cities should be made directly to the local office.
3. The New York State Department of Health does not have New York City records except for births occurring in Queens and Richmond counties for the years 1881 through 1897.
4. Please read the Administrative Rule Summary on the reverse side of this sheet which specifies years available for genealogical research.

To insure a complete search, provide as much information as possible. Please complete for type of record requested, birth, death OR marriage.

Summary

1. Genealogical Research

Uncertified copies or abstracts from records of birth, death, and marriage may be provided for genealogical research purposes subject to the restrictions specified in this summary. All requests must be submitted in writing and include payment of the applicable statutory fee. The applicant shall be required to pay the specified fee for the time spent for the search and uncertified copy or notification of no record.

2. Who is authorized to do the searching?

Record searches shall be conducted only by the following persons in the files maintained by their respective agencies:

- a. authorized employees of the State Department of Health;
- b. a local registrar, deputy registrar, or an authorized employee of the registrar;
- c. a town or city clerk, deputy clerk, or an authorized employee of the town or city clerk.

3. What records are available?

- a. No information shall be released from a record of birth which has been placed in a confidential file pursuant to Public Health Law Section 4138.
- b. No information shall be released from a record of birth unless the record has been on file for at least 75 years and the person to whom the record relates is known to the applicant to be deceased.
- c. No information shall be released from a record of death unless the record has been on file for at least 50 years.
- d. No information shall be released from a record of marriage unless the record has been on file for at least 50 years and the parties to the marriage are known to the applicant to be deceased.
- e. The time periods specified in (3B), (3C), and (3D) are waived if the applicant is a descendant or has been designated to act on behalf of a descendant of the person whose record is being requested. A descendant is a person in the direct line of descent. The applicant shall provide documentation of descendancy prior to the release of information in those instances where a waiver of the waiting period is requested. A party acting on behalf of a descendant shall further provide documentation that the descendant authorized the party to make such application.
- f. All uncertified copies, abstracts, or information issued for genealogical research purposes shall be clearly marked with the statement "For Genealogical Purposes Only."

Part 35.5

Vital Records

(Statutory Authority: Public Health Law, § 4173, 4174)

35.5 Genealogical research; method of disclosure; searches.

(a) Information from records of birth and death on file in the State Department of Health or on file with the local registrar of vital statistics may be provided for genealogical research in the form of an uncertified copy or abstract upon written application and payment of the fees specified in subdivision three of section 4174 of the Public Health Law. The search of the files may be conducted only by authorized employees of the State Department of Health and locally by registrar, deputy registrar, or an authorized employee of the registrar, subject to the following limitations:

(1) No information shall be issued from a record of birth unless a record has been on file for at least 75 years or more and the person to whom the record relates is known to the applicant to be deceased.

(2) No information shall be issued from a record of birth that has been placed in a confidential file pursuant to section 4138 of the Public Health Law.

(3) No information may be issued from a record of death unless the record has been on file for at least 50 years or more.

(b) Information from records of marriage on file in the State Department of Health or on file with a town or city clerk may be provided for genealogical research in the form of an uncertified copy or abstract upon written application. If application is made to the State Department of Health, the applicant shall pay the fees prescribed in section 20-a of the Domestic Relations Law. If the application is made to a town or city clerk, the applicant shall pay the fees prescribed in section 19 of the Domestic Relations Law. The search of the files may be conducted only by authorized employees of the State Department of Health and locally by the town or city clerk or deputy clerk or by authorized employees of the town or city clerk-subject, however, to the limitation that no information shall be issued from a record of marriage unless the record has been on file for at least 50 years and the parties to the marriage named in the record are known to the applicant to be deceased.

(c) All uncertified copies or abstracts issued for genealogical research shall be clearly marked "for genealogical research only."

(d) Notwithstanding that a search of the file discloses no record, the applicant, nevertheless, shall be chargeable for and be required to pay the specified fee for search time and notification of no-record.

Please Note:

Years available for "Genealogy" according to the above ruling are as follows:

Birth: 1881—1912

Marriages: 1880—1937

Deaths: 1880—1937

This ruling was adopted in March 1979 to make these records (considered of historic value) available to the public.

Part 35.5

Vital Records

(Statutory Authority: Public Health Law, § 4173.4174)

35.5 Genealogical research; method of disclosure; searches.

(a) Information from records of birth and death on file in the State Department of Health or on file with the local registrar of vital statistics may be provided for genealogical research in the form of an uncertified copy or abstract upon written application and payment of the fees specified in subdivision three of section 4174 of the Public Health Law. The search of the files may be conducted only by authorized employees of the State Department of Health and locally by registrar, deputy registrar, or an authorized employee of the registrar, subject to the following limitations:

(1) No information shall be issued from a record of birth unless a record has been on file for at least 75 years or more and the person to whom the record relates is known to the applicant to be deceased.

(2) No information shall be issued from a record of birth that has been placed in a confidential file pursuant to section 4138 of the Public Health Law.

(3) No information may be issued from a record of death unless the record has been on file for at least 50 years or more.

(b) Information from records of marriage on file in the State Department of Health or on file with a town or city clerk may be provided for genealogical research in the form of an uncertified copy or abstract upon written application. If application is made to the State Department of Health, the applicant shall pay the fees prescribed in section 20-a of the Domestic Relations Law. If the application is made to a town or city clerk, the applicant shall pay the fees prescribed in section 19 of the Domestic Relations Law. The search of the files may be conducted only by authorized employees of the State Department of Health and locally by the town or city clerk or deputy clerk or by authorized employees of the town or city clerk subject, however, to the limitation that no information shall be issued from a record of marriage unless the record has been on file for at least 50 years and the parties to the marriage named in the record are known to the applicant to be deceased.

(c) All uncertified copies or abstracts issued for genealogical research shall be clearly marked "for genealogical research only."

(d) Notwithstanding that a search of the file discloses no record, the applicant, nevertheless, shall be chargeable for and be required to pay the specified fee for search time and notification of no-record.

Please Note:

Years available for "Genealogy" according to the above ruling are as follows:

Birth: 1881—1912

Marriages: 1880—1937

Deaths: 1880—1937

This ruling was adopted in March 1979 to make these records (considered of historic value) available to the public.

REFERRED TO NPRC BY

THE REPLY TO YOUR INQUIRY WILL BE FOUND IN THE CHECKED ITEM(S).

☐ Under the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, we must have the written consent of the individual whose records are involved before considering your request. If the individual is a minor dependent of a veteran, the parent or legal guardian must sign the release. If the person is mentally incompetent, the legal guardian must sign the release. (The legal representative or guardian should furnish a copy of the court appointment.) Although the Privacy Act does not apply to the records of deceased individuals, Department of Defense instructions indicate that we must have the written consent of the next of kin if the individual is deceased. For purposes of the release authorization, the next of kin is defined as any of the following: unremarried widow or widower, son, daughter, father, mother, brother or sister. If you are able to obtain the written consent, please return your request to us.

☐ We are unable to determine what information or documents you want. Please send us a detailed statement outlining the specific information or document needed.

☐ Upon receipt of your reply, we will consider your request promptly and furnish all available information or documents that may be released under policies of the military service.

☐ The information or document you request may be released only under certain conditions. Please explain the purpose for which you intend to use it.

☐ If legal proceedings are pending, please inform us of the nature of the action and whether the United States is a party.

☐ Military personnel, upon separation from the Armed Forces, are furnished a separation document containing a resume of their military service. We believe this document contains sufficient evidence of service for the purpose described. If not, or if the separation document is not available, the specific information needed will be furnished upon receipt of the service person's authorization. If the document has been lost, the veteran may obtain a copy by writing to this Center.

☒ The military record needed to answer this inquiry is not in our files. If the record was here on July 12, 1973, it would have been in the area that suffered the most damage in the fire here on that date and may have been destroyed.

There are alternate record sources available:

☐ which often can be used to reconstruct the information or document required. Complete the attached form as completely as possible and return to this Center.

☒ but these sources do not contain the particular type of information or document requested. We regret that we cannot be of assistance in this matter. (Analogous)

☐ Birth certificates for persons born in the United States usually can be obtained from the Bureau of Vital Statistics in the state in which birth occurred. The address for the appropriate bureau appears below:

1. Information needed to locate records. Certain identifying information is necessary to determine the location of an individual's record of military service. Please give careful consideration to and answer each item on this form. If you do not have and cannot obtain the information for an item, show "NA," meaning the information is "not available." Include as much of the requested information as you can. This will help us to give you the best possible service.

2. Charges for service. A nominal fee is charged for certain types of service. In most instances service fees cannot be determined in advance. If your request involves a service fee you will be notified as soon as that determination is made.

3. Restrictions on release of information. Information from records of military personnel is released subject to restrictions imposed by the military departments consistent with the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act of 1967 (as amended in 1974) and the Privacy Act of 1974. A service person has access to almost any information contained in his own record. The next of kin, if the veteran is deceased, and Federal officers for official purposes, are authorized to receive information from a military service or medical record only as specified in the above cited Acts. Other requesters must have the release authorization, in item 5 of the form, signed by the veteran or, if deceased, by the next of kin. Employers and others needing proof of military service are expected to accept the information shown on documents issued by the Armed Forces at the time a service person is separated.

4. Location of military personnel records. The various categories of military personnel records are described in the chart below. For each category there is a code number which indicates the address at the bottom of the page to which this request should be sent. For each military service there is a note explaining approximately how long the records are held by the military service before they are transferred to the National Personnel Records Center, St. Louis. Please read these notes carefully and make sure you send your inquiry to the right address. Please note especially that the record is not sent to the National Personnel Records Center as long as the person retains any sort of reserve obligation, whether drilling or non-drilling.

(If the person has two or more periods of service within the same branch, send your request to the office having the record for the last period of service.)

5. Definitions for abbreviations used below:
 NPRC—National Personnel Records Center
 PERS—Personnel Records
 TDRL—Temporary Disability Retirement List
 MED—Medical Records

RELEASE AUTHORIZATION, IF REQUIRED (Read instruction at right.)

RESTRICTIONS ON RELEASE OF INFORMATION

Under the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, we must have the written consent of the individual whose records are involved before considering your request. If the individual is a minor dependent of a veteran, the parent or legal guardian must sign the release. If the person is mentally incompetent, the legal guardian must sign the release. (The legal representative or guardian should furnish a copy of the court appointment.) Although the Privacy Act does not apply to the records of deceased individuals, Department of Defense instructions indicate that we must have the written consent of the next of kin if the individual is deceased. For the purposes of the release authorization, the next of kin is defined as any of the following: unmarried widow or widower, son, daughter, father, mother, brother or sister. If you are able to have the veteran or next of kin complete the release authorization at left, please return your request. Employers and others needing proof of military service are expected to accept the information shown on documents issued by the Armed Forces at the time a service person is separated.

WORLD WAR I: War to end all wars had reverse effect

By Mort Rosenblum

Associated Press

PARIS — Only a scant few still hear the muffled echoes, but this month 75 years ago, the guns of August opened the Great War that changed the shape of the world forever.

World War I began when a Serbian terrorist shot to death the archduke expected to inherit the Austro-Hungarian empire, in a little town named Sarajevo. Europe was in flames within weeks.

On Aug. 3, 1914, the day Germany declared war on Britain, Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, stared down into St. James's Park and said to a friend:

"The lamps are going out all over Europe. We shall not see them lit again in our lifetime."

The next day, Prime Minister Herbert Asquith told the House of Commons that Britain was at war with Germany because Kaiser Wilhelm II ignored a British ultimatum to respect Belgian neutrality.

When it ended four years later, the Great War had demolished Europe's long-established social and political structure. It released political and social forces leading to revolutions, dictatorships and another world war that made the 20th century the MOSCOW — Soviet rock fans jumped, danced and wrapped themselves in giant American flags Saturday as some of heavy metal's biggest stars made their Soviet debut. The benefit concert, a two-day extravaganza billed as the "Moscow Music Peace Festival," features Western musicians Motley Crue, Bon Jovi, Scorpions, Cinderella, Ozzy Osbourne and Skid Row as well as the Magsaysay award for journalism, literature and creative Arts, it was announced Saturday in Manila. The Rev. James Bertram Reuter Jr. was praised for "employing his gifts as writer, theatrical director and broadcaster, but most of all as teacher to make the performing arts and media a vital force for the good of the Philippines."

Reuter, 73, of New Jersey, began directing plays in 1941 and wrote scripts for a Catholic radio program. During World War II, he was in the Philippines to teach journalism, write and direct art productions.

He introduced Catholic programming on television and helped set up the church's radio station, Veritas. When Marcos declared martial law in 1972, Reuter was arrested for criticizing the government.

Cash museum to move: An old dinner theater that now houses country music singer Johnny Cash's museum is for sale for $795,000.

Reba Hancock, Cash's sister and general manager of the House of Cash museum, said Friday that Cash will move the museum to some other spot in Hendersonville, Tenn.

"We just decided that this place was too big for our needs, so we've decided to sell it and relocate elsewhere in Hendersonville," she said. "We don't have any idea where at this point."

The building is 14,000 square feet on a one-acre tract. Cash bought the property in 1970.

The museum also is the corporate office for the business interests of Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash.

Gatlins wipe out debt: Country music star Larry Gatlin says he and his brothers have erased a $1.6 million debt caused by cocaine and bad investments.

bloodiest in history.

Ten million people were killed in battle or in the cross fire of World War I — without one decisive victory. Perhaps 65 million troops took part in the fight, which wiped out the flower of British, French, German and Russian manhood.

Britain alone suffered 765,000 dead, compared with 265,000 in World War II, and 2 million wounded.

It was a war of trenches where junior officers, often 18 or 19 years old, were pitched into the front line straight from their school units.

In Britain, they were the young from an entire generation of the upper and middle classes.

They were the men who would have led the country or fathered the next generation of political leaders, innovators, experts and intellectuals.

In the West, eventual humiliation in France left Germany in economic and social chaos, creating conditions that spawned Adolf Hitler.

In the East, world war spilled into the Russian revolution. A czar bled white gave way to a Red Army. Shards of empires in Eastern Europe fell victim to forces that, after another war, locked them behind an Iron Curtain.

Across the Atlantic, the United States was pulled from isolation to emerge as a military and economic power.

Ancient Persia fell to a coup d'etat that brought to power the Pahlavi dynasty, itself brought down in 1979 by the Islamic revolution of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. African colonies changed hands, leaving confused loyalties.

After 1918, the world looked at itself differently.

World War I was the last fought the old way, with ranking officers leading their forces in bloody charges, hill by hill and trench by trench.

In four years of trench warfare, officers moved among the troops to keep up morale under shellfire and, carrying revolvers and blowing whistles, led them "over the top" against machine guns firing from behind barbed-wire emplacements.

Pilots pitched bombs out of airplane cockpits and submarines fired simple torpedoes, the first steps in modern warfare that evolved to nuclear missiles within a lifetime.

The Great War left today's leaders with a forum for seeking accord. Horrified by what they had wrought, governments formed the League of Nations, forerunner of the United Nations.

It was long ago and memories fade. In Paris, the American Legion is being edged out of Pershing Hall, for 61 years a shrine to the general who commanded the American Expeditionary Force.

Newspapers in Europe now focus on a later anniversary: It has been 50 years since World War II began.

In Britain, the only national newspaper to mention the 1914 anniversary was the Daily Telegraph.

"A swathe was cut through the manhood of Britain," it said, and "August 1914 was also — for better or worse — the beginning of the modern world."

"The Great War led to Hitler's Germany, and eased the creation of Lenin's Soviet Union," the editorial said. "It bound together the British empire, only to prepare it for dissolution."

"At home, it precipitated the liberation of women, socialist government and the loosening of the class system.

The new influence of the masses wrought changes not just in politics, but in work, culture and thought."

It was a war of losers.

From the first volley to February 1917, one Frenchman died every minute. When it was over, field marshals paraded down the Champs-Elysees more in relief than victory.

There was little to carve into the Arc de Triomphe. Troops came home maimed and muddy, happy enough to be alive with a place to come back to. It was a war to forget.

At the veterans' hospital near Les Invalides, social worker Jeanne de Barrel has only a few Great War victims left to look after. All are nearly 100 years old.

"By now, they are ready to talk about the war," she said. "It has been a long time and they bear no more grudges."

If the dates and details blur with time, the war without glory, the war to forget, is still remembered.

Just mention the words. Verdun, Ypres. The Marne and the Somme. Any Frenchman, any European, knows what they mean.

An artist's illustration of the Colorado Tribute to Veterans design. The author of the winning design is the architectural firm of Johnson-Hopson and Partners of Denver, Colorado. The team leaders are Robert W. Root and Richard C. Farley. This design provides a highly visible, yet dignified configuration of enduring forms and materials. Its elements convey an appropriate sense of pride and dignity, and yet are abstract enough to symbolize a number of different impressions and moods. The granite tower represents an image of vigilance and strength. The lantern at the top of the tower is a beacon marking a special place, and implies a lasting awareness and memory. The granite pool gives a sense of introspection and quiet as well as reflecting the Colorado images of sky and Capitol.

This winning design respects its context. The reflecting pool contributes a sense of repose while reinforcing the major axis of the Civic Center. The traditional form of the vertical monument relates to the classical character of the Civic Center, but sits to the side of the axis to respect the important views of the City County Building and the State Capitol. The pool and monument together are composed to enhance the views of the Capitol by framing and reflecting them. At night, the lantern on the top of the monument, the lighted sandstone walkways along the sides of the pool, and the lighted pool spillway will combine to create a dramatic effect.

The design was selected by an Awards Jury of veterans in conjunction with an Advisory Panel of design professionals through a state-wide competition proclaimed by Governor Richard Lamm. The granite tower with beacon will be 30 ft. tall, 4 ft. wide at its base, and 2 1/2 ft. as it ascends. The granite reflecting pool with inscription tablet will be 14 ft. wide and 58 ft. long. All granite to include the lighting ballards along the edge of the walkway will be selected to match the color of the State Capitol in the background. The walkway will be of Colorado red sandstone between granite bands.

In addition to this Colorado Tribute to Veterans to be constructed on the west grounds of the State Capitol, there will be on permanent display in the west entrance of the State Capitol a COLORADO WAR DEAD HONOR ROLL of 5,400 names from Vietnam, Korea, World War II, and World War I compiled from the National Archives in Washington, D.C.

Since May 1983 there has evolved a unique co-operative citizen/government effort to construct the COLORADO TRIBUTE TO VETERANS on the grounds of the State Capitol — something that has not been done by Colorado since the Spanish-American War in 1898. The State of Colorado provided the site, proclaimed the design competition, will supervise the entire construction process and will take over possession and maintenance upon dedication. The Colorado Tribute to Veterans Fund, an all volunteer, non-profit, private corporation, selected the TRIBUTE design and is organizing the $495,000 fundraising effort of which over 90% will go for construction. If you want to express your gratitude and respect for the men and women whose proud service and brave sacrifice has kept our nation strong and free, send your tax-deductible donation today. We can not succeed in this long overdue project to be financed entirely by private contribution without you!

This site on the west grounds of the State Capitol was authorized unanimously by the 1984 Colorado Legislature. Looking eastward from across Broadway Avenue, the State Capitol is in the background with Lincoln Avenue at the base of the hill.

Notes With Donations:

"Good Luck - It is a great idea! Lieutenant, Navy, Vietnam; Sergeant, Marines, Vietnam; Technicians Mate, Navy, WW II-Korea; Staff Sergeant, Army, Air Force, WW II."

"I'm not a veteran. I'm a high school grad but I can see the need for the memorial and would like to help. I'll try to get my friends to do the same because I think everyone should help."

"I felt I should write and send a donation to the TRIBUTE for the four veterans in my family: father - WW II, mother - WW II, father-in-law - WW II, husband - 1961-64"

"Enclosed is my donation for the Colorado memorial. I am a native of Kansas and have lived in Colorado for the past two years. I'm a former infantryman with the 9th Division, Vietnam, 1969-70."

"As a small child, I sold poppies on the street corner on the Saturday before Memorial Day. I knew what the day meant because I was lucky to get my Dad back from WW II. He is now gone but I really would like to send along a donation. This is my way of selling poppies on the street corner for an excellent cause."

"My heart has long ached for the veterans of Vietnam. Finally, the US is opening its eyes and hearts to their bravery. I'm only 16 and know little of war. Recently, I wrote a report about it and learned a lot. I'm glad our awareness is growing and hope this monument will be completed by Memorial Day next year."

Commemorate the service and sacrifice of all veterans with special recognition of 5,400+ Coloradoans who died in World War I, World War II, Korea, and Vietnam.

- I. Long overdue and unique-not done in 90 years since the Spanish-American War in 1898
- II. 5,400+ Coloradoans died in World War I, World War II, Korea, and Vietnam and have not been given the recognition they rightfully deserve
- III. Coloradoans have demonstrated their support of the project
 - A. The all volunteer staff have received no financial reward for the efforts since the start of the project in May 1983
 - B. As of October 1, 1987, business, individuals, veterans organizations/Auxiliaries, city/county governments, community associations, and schools from 175 Colorado communities have donated $224,000 of the projected $460,000 construction budget in 3 years at a cost of $28,000
 - C. State of Colorado Commitments
 1. Legislature unanimously authorized the site in 1984 with no deadline for completion
 2. Governor Richard Lamm proclaimed in 1984 the state-wide design competition
 3. Department of Administration in 1985 agreed to oversee the entire construction process
 4. State of Colorado will take over possession and maintenance upon completion
 5. Permanent display of the Colorado War Dead Honor Roll and Journal of Contributors in the west entrance of our Capitol
- IV. The monument tower/reflecting pool design will be a $460,000 enhancement to the west grounds of our State Capitol

FLAG OF MY HEART!

Oh! Service Flag, with star of blue,
And face against the pane,
Pray tell me, dear, what can I do,
To help him back again?
What sacrifice and deed you serve,
What pleasure and what pain;
But courage, heart, I must not swerve,
For he'll come back again!

Dear Friend:

It is a pleasure to have your name sent in on the "War-Roll" of allegiance to the Lord Jesus. You are thus enlisting in no small army, for the number reported here is over 200,000, representing the camps all over the country, the fleets and the expeditionary force abroad.

This pledge, whether now taken for the first time or not, means life-long service to the Captain of your salvation and to the sinful, suffering world. Your rewards will be great, but this should be taken as an opportunity to give rather than to receive help. One of your greatest helps to your comrades will be to induce them also to confess Christ.

The little card may be kept as a reminder of your pledge and used as a book-mark in your daily reading of your Testament. The enclosed booklet of suggested passages may be a help. Thousands of men are using it. Join a class too for study of the Bible, or help to start one if there is none already where you are.

It is important that you join a church at once, unless already a full member. Choose the denomination in which you think you can render the best service for life. You could arrange for it through your Chaplain or Association secretary. The Association building will afford you a place for usefulness and your help will be welcomed. Your deepest service will be by Christian character, expressed in honorable treatment of everybody, by manly temperate habits and by clean speech. You need not be surprised when temptations and difficulties come. God will give you strength for them if you ask Him. The Chaplains and the Association's workers are there to advise you, and if we can do anything here we shall be glad. Will you drop me a line and tell me how it goes? Whether you are in camp, at sea, at the front in Europe or back home again, your choice of Jesus as your Master will prove the wisest decision you ever made. Be always true to Him.

Your Sincere Friend,

R. P. Wilder

Dear Mother and all - was just thinking of you so I thought I would just drop you a line tonight. am out on one of my long trips hunting Batteries. So I wound up here.
This is a very pretty part of the country. This town is where Mark Twain lived and wrote
so many of his books.
I am about 125 miles from home. ~~and~~ am thought I was going to be in tonight. So I gave her quite a surprise I just called her and told her where I was and she said that was a fine

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mist of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze o'er the lowering steep,
As if fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines in the stream;
'Tis the star-spangled banner. Oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the Heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And thus be our motto, "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

—Francis Scott Key

THE BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord:
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are
stored;

He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

Chorus: Glory, glory, Hallelujah! Glory, glory, Hallelujah!
Glory, glory, Hallelujah! His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.

Chorus.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel:
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace shall deal."

Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel, Since God is marching on.

Chorus.

He hath sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat:
Oh! be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

Chorus.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me:
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

Chorus.

FLAG OF MY HEART!

Oh! Service Flag, with star of blue,
And face against the pane,
Pray tell me, dear, what can I do,
To help him back again?
What sacrifice and deed you serve,
What pleasure and what pain;
But courage, heart, I must not swerve,
For he'll come back again!

PS The letters from Woodford are not in line datewise. It doesn't matter tho.
He sure was a good boy & loved his family very much. It would have been great to have known him. You sure will have fun reading his letters.

her? & yes I had a card and a letter from Orma they were all Feeling very well at this time they have their cotton land Ready for Planting? said that Kenneth would have to going Be exanded again this week didnt now yet just what would happen? she seemed worried about him? oh yes Marys Brother came in home sure enough didnt let to stay just a few hours
she was so hard to see him

~~how~~ ~~was~~ I was glad they didn't leave home the met him at the depot Five o'clock Sunday morning had leave Sunday evening? sorry well I guess I had better close for now ~~to~~ kiss the baby and sue for me Bless their little hearts hope to hear from you all soon Mother and Grand mother love and Best wishes

P.S. I forgot Mary Jane just came in she said that Bill & Ori and mikeel were leaving on their vacation caisson in the morning said they might go up to Fred's so B-7 good luck let me hear how everything is there tell sue to write me

5-4 1950

Dear ones Just a few lines Received your letter this after noon so glad to hear I love you but so sorry to hear of that sweet little Baby Feeling so bad I do hope she is better by now
I lack her little heart hope she is all right and she got to school this week
I have missed you kids that week? I cut weeds mond and part of the day Tuesday but it seemed I could work no longer I got the weeds cut down under close time looks some better now Freid, and Chris gave me a Tommy

Yesterday Wednesday had my hair cut - Pretty short this time - I sure do like it - I went home with Frieda last night to see the Racing match was pretty good I thought I stayed all night with her then went over to Willie and to Ben home and did some shopping we found some Chair Bottoms for my old Chairs so when I got home tore off the ^{old} Chair Bottoms
the new ones on I didnt do to good a job But I guess it will do for me ?

Say you ask me what I did Sunday I left at 10
Fred came over and staid a while then she went home then about 11. Clock Alma came staid 3. She left George and Mary Jane her Brother came work on the cat house till about 4. they all left & rested the all day along. I was tired out? oh yes my junior Plants never did wilt they look just as fresh and nice I set them out Tuesday I had nice long letter from Grma she was worried about all of us

She hadnt heard from me of me & she was afraid we might be sick so you better write her soon as you can I going mail her a letter in the morning and I will have to write her & hear soon love to all of you & mother
I sure to hear from all of you

Mom sent Sue Manning's me. I'm sorry I first didn't hear from her in ages. but nice to get even some one else's letter. Hope she is well.
we are going to church this morning

Mr. G. D. H. am

Dear father and mother I Will drop you all a few lines to day. What have you all been doing these days I never felt any better in my life I am better satisfied here than any thing I was ever in. When the war is over I am going to enlist a gain I think there is something to it when a man gets sick fat in a bout a month don't you?
Well we have got out of the contact camp at last and

We are at a fine place
the Buil sheep 94 we have plough side walks and a good shed for about 300 4 mbs a man wouldnt have to get in the snow on the ground, isnt that all wright. I think I forget on an orderly this evening it is hard to tell when we will leave here but soon I guess the Copton have said we wouldnt see here at the first of next month but there are a few that have been here for a year and when they first come they were told the same well I must quit so I will soon of our son Woodford H and our friend Buil sheep 94 very truly

Dear father I got your letter a few minutes ago and think it was time to for I haven't heard from you all in so long well the Chonars are pretty good
We are going over after him.
say I put in my application for a Discharge, this morning to the Military Gov. That may keep me back for a while, say it may be so I can send you a little money after a while I won't need all I get for a man
We wouldn't feel like a soldier unless he was broke. I am going to invest some of my money in a kit for a man needs one he has to go slick should

Well I am sorry you dont think you will make any money for a man needs it to keep going but listen I have been out of stamps until today and a bout five minutes before I got your letter I was going to my tent with my plate of supper and I saw something shining and I scratched and found a dime so I bought ten cents worth of stamps so I can write 3 letters and have one cent left. Well if I dont get to see you before I leave I will see you in France I like the army

The first few weeks were hard my camp body is 30 miles from the line of old Mexico and 40 from the line of Arizona look on the map and you can tell a lot where I am I am pretty tired to night for I marched 4 miles this eve. we drill 4 hours a day that isn't bad at all well papa I can't think of any thing else to write so I will close write me a long letter and listen, you want to begin to think of the way you are living and set a good example

Dear father I got your letter at noon and am answering it hurriedly.
This is Sunday and there is some crowd here too. While I think of it I will give you that new address the one that got the cotton style from Mr. Guy Harding Brewer for he hasn't got but 45 c but there is so many others close around him and he is a fine man to work for. What does Tom think now. and what is Bill going to do well I can't think of any thing to write. I guess Alma and W.B. will not come back to work
I haven't heard from them yet. I got Dreton's letter yesterday a few days ago and was so glad to get that money on account and I can't need it.

Don't we had in L.A.

I can see and make

I can see that there is a real the crops are looking good it has been raining here this morning and it is a little too soon to say. I am amused I don't know if it is but it is a mail that will be on an way to some secret which will go to France a long way I am that we are and only hope I gave you have had about this

OCT 9, 1918

imagine it is it nothing but a thin card I let I have had a thousand little paper I sent some things found in the lunch there also on old iron general it is not covered so don't be afraid of it. I hope the box out of it I sent a hand card around a bunch of little letters and also a button that represents the moral department

I think I sent a tooth brush and post thing mistake by the way I have got a real candy and some real mechanical work give me by the way ever they out of it and all these are apparent to me, well I hope we will get back soon and I think we will go to Kaiser is about to give
